Taylor Lombardo Architects is an award winning Architecture and Land Planning firm with offices in San Francisco and Napa, California. Partners Tom Taylor and Maurice Lombardo specialize in custom residences and wineries of diverse vernaculars, each tailored to the specific needs of their client. They have designed over thirty wineries including Silver Oak Cellars, Kelly Fleming Wines, and Nickel & Nickel Winery. Additionally the pair has extensive experience in hospitality and retail design. The location of their projects has ranged from local to international as well as throughout the United States. Each structure is created to be site sensitive and environmentally responsible. Integrating sustainable materials with state of the art technology allows the firm to create both traditional and modern designs that meet all of the challenges of today's green, energy efficient requirements, without compromise to style, comfort, or beauty. The results are designs that remain timeless, innovative, and enduring.
